Art Unit: 1652

Attachment to PTOL-324

The amendments to both the specification and the claims filed on January 26, 2005 are not compliant because they do not reflect changes with respect to the pending claims of record and/or the pending specification of record.

In the Request for Continued Examination (RCE) Transmittal, Applicant requested that the reply and amendment filed on December 27, 2004 be considered (note top box checked). Said reply/amendment was an after-final amendment previously not considered as noted in the Advisory Action mailed January 13, 2005. However, entry of said reply/amendment is a matter of right when requested in an RCE.

Additional amendments were requested to be entered with the filing on January 26, 2005. It is these amendments that do not reflect changes to the specification and claims as they have been amended, with the transmittal of the RCE, by virtue of the amendment filed on December 27, 2004.

Applicant must withdraw consideration of the amendment filed on December 27, 2004 or withdrawn the amendment filed on January 26, 2005 for any amendment on January 26, 2005 to be compliant.
